In addition to presentations by these these public figures, OneLife LA will feature local stories of life-affirming courage in the face of difficult circumstances. These stories illustrate the beauty and dignity of every human life, particularly at its most vulnerable.

- Choosing life over abortion—this speaker will share her story of facing an unexpected pregnancy interfering with her career and life plans. Thanks to the unconditional support from a local pregnancy center, she and her husband chose life for their unborn child.
- Growing up in foster care—our speaker will share her experience of growing up in the foster care system in LA, living in over twenty foster homes, and facing great obstacles as a result. Thanks to the great work of a local organization and some kind-hearted families, she received mentoring that introduced her to a whole new life.
- Being rescued from human trafficking—our speaker immigrated from the Philippines for a better life in the United States. Instead she was enslaved at a center for the elderly in Long Beach, forced to work long hours without rest or food. She was rescued by a vigilant neighbor and now works for an aid organization and advocates for victims' assistance.
- Living with a terminal diagnosis—this speaker will share her story of being diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumor at the age of three. She never giving up hope or wished to shorten her life, even when in extreme discomfort, because of her faith in God's plan for her. Now 12, she keeps her sunny disposition, grounded firmly in the knowledge that she has been created for a reason.
